

Every mention of Carlos Bringuier in WHITEWASH (incorrect title in 1963
ers) is in pp. 147-9.

"A. That petitioner was a former official of the Castro government in Cuba until he defected in May 1960".

Whitewash: He is a Havana-trained lawyer, a member of the Cuban bar and a former official of the Castro government until he defected in May 1960, and disguised to the degree possible in his appearance." (147)

1CH33: ~~XXXXXX~~ Mr. Bringuier. Well, I was living in Havana until May 4, 1960, left Havana to Guatemala and Argentina, and I came to the United States in February 8, 1961"

1CH33: "Mr. Bringuier. Well, I was an attorney in Cuba and assistant secretary for the criminal court in Havana."

1CH34: "Mr. ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ Liebler. And did you actually practise law in Cuba?"

"Mr. Bringuier. Not actually, no. I didn't practise law because I was working, as I told you, in the criminal court, and in Havana, in Cuba, when I was employed of the criminal court, you could not practise law."

1CH34: "Mr. Liebler. Am I correct in understanding that you left Cuba because of your feeling against the Castro regime and your opposition to that regime?"

"Mr. Bringuier. That it correct....."

Party, do you need any more on this?"

"B. That petitioner disguised the aforesaid allegation to the degree possible during petitioners sworn testimony before the Warren Commission... this need anything more. He was a Castro government employee and he said not a thing about his functions in the Havana court, of which an abundance has been printed in the United States. I did not say he disguised this, only "to the possible".

"C. That petitioner identified himself during sworn testimony before the Warren Commission as a salesman and manager of a store called Casa Bode for Casa Bocde), 107 Decatur Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, he was, in fact, an owner in partnership with his brother-in-law, Rolando Pelaez".

Whitewash: "(147) Bringuier identified himself as a "salesman and manager" of a store called "Casa Boca", 107 Decatur Street. He was, in fact, an owner, in partnership with his brother-in-law, Rolando Pelaez".

1CH33: "Mr. Bringuier. Well, I am a salesman, retail clothing store with the name Casa Roca, 107 Decatur Street. I am a salesman and manager of the store. X

Mr. Liebler. How long have you been so employed?

"Mr. Bringuier. I started to work in that store in October 1, 1962 (sic)."

1CH36. Mr. Bringuier....Oswald was in the store talking to my brother-in-law - that is my partner in the store-Rolando Pelaez".

"B. That upon petitioner's arrival in New Orleans, Louisiana on February 18, 1961, he was the delegate of the Cuban Revolutionary Council."

Whitewash (147): On arrival in New Orleans February 18, 1961, he was the 'delegate' of the 'Cuban Revolutionary Council'. In June 1962 he was 'designated New Orleans delegate of the Cuban Student Directorate..."

I do not now have time to read all of his testimony to find out if he was the "delegate" of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, but immediately I can establish his voluntary relationship with it by referring you to Bringuier Exhibit 4 (1CH176), introduced into evidence on his initiative (1CH46), identified as a document of his composition, with the identification of a series of Cuban organizations at the end as signatories, including the Cuban Revolutionary Council and the Cuban Student Directorate. He also signed the copy used as an exhibit and (on page 47) asked for the return of the original.

"E. That the petitioner is an enemy of the United States, who hates the United States States more than he does Russia."

I did not say this or anything like it. I correctly quoted his neighbor Orest Pena (149): "Orest passionately denounced his former friend Bringuier as an enemy of the United States, who "hates the United States more than he does Russia (11H353). Quoting Spanish obscenities he says "Bringuier addressed to the United States, Pena challenged Liebelow, "if he did not believe him, 'let him (Bringuier) and me take a lie detector test and see who is right on it.

On the cited page there is repetitious testimony that Bringuier "hates the United States". I quoted only some. If you want I'll copy the entire page for you. Let me quote just a few.

Pena: "I tell you Bringuier hates the United States as much as he hates Russia".

Without combing the testimony to find the exact words- what I quote above is repeated several times, to show you this is exactly what the Commission's counsel took from it, "Mr. Liebelow. May we now say that Mr. Bringuier hates the United States more than he does Russia?"
